Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 04 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold and mostly cloudy with showers, wintry over the hills.

Today:
Generally cloudy though some bright spells throughout the day, and a chance of showers, these possibly wintry over hills. Feeling cold with a risk of ice during the morning. Breezy. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:
Some scattered showers are possible towards the east of the region. Clouds will part further west allowing for clear spells. A colder night than of late. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cloudy day with showers, wintry at times with snow over hills. Some areas will remain dry and it will feel rather cold with brisk winds. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Dry and cloudy for many on Wednesday. Thursday will see some wet and wintry weather arrive from the northwest. Friday will be dry with sunny spells. Remaining cold throughout outlook.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.